Over 20 Murderers at Large In Britain!

UNSOLVED CRIMES: BLACK RECORD FOR 1931.

DETECTIVES HANDICAPPED BY RESTRICTIONS?

More than twenty murderers, whose crimes were committed in Great Britain during the past three years, are at liberty to-day—contemptuous of the efforts of the police to catch them.

There were 25 deaths in 25 unsolved murder mysteries in the three years. Three other cases which promise to become unsolved crimes (including the Vera Page murder) are under investigation.

CAREERS BEFORE CAPTURES.

This state of affairs has gradually developed since 1928 when the Home Office report for 1927 declared that the number of unsolved murder mysteries tends to diminish almost to vanishing-point. The 1931 figures reveal the blackest record of any one year since criminal investigation was organised and complete statistics kept.

In 1931 there were 11 unsolved murder mysteries. In each of the cases recorded under the "unsolved" heading coroners' juries returned a verdict of "Murder," but no conviction followed. This figure does not include the three other mysteries under investigation.

In the following black list of unsolved murders, the cases in which Scotland Yard took charge are indicated. When no such indication is given, it shows that the case was handled by the local police authorities.

1931—ELEVEN CASES.

Miss Margaret Schofield, a Dew-bury weaver, killed in the street—
Scotland Yard case.

Miss Evelyn Foster, killed at Otterburn.

Miss Louisa Steel, strangled at Blackheath—Scotland Yard case.

Mrs. Julia Wallace, at Anfield,
Liverpool.

Mrs. Abigail Whalley, killed in a bungalow at Blackpool.

Idries Ali, Bengalee seaman, killed
at Canning Town—Scotland Yard case.

Mr. Robert Guthrie Donald, bank cashier, murdered at Clydebank.

Mark Scott, a miner, at Barnsley.

Edward George Welham, shot at Blandford kennels—Scotland Yard
case.

Madge Winifred Cleife, strangled
at Portsmouth.

Annie Louise Norah Upchurch, strangled in Soho—Scotland Yard
case.

1930—SIX CASES.

Miss Agnes Kesson, strangled on Epsom Downs—Scotland Yard
case.

Bentrice Prendergast, stabbed at Brighton.

ROUND THE SHOPS.

[By "EVE"]

Whiteaway's.—Among the large variety of bargains seen at Whiteaway's sale, there is a special display of handbags all marked down below cost price to clear. These bags are all of the finest leathers and in very tasteful styles. The envelope shade is still the most popular but the new pouch-shapes feature a link strap and are in all the latest colours. For evening wear they are made in every smart fabric, sometimes trimmed with effective jewels; these handbags are decidedly more than something in which to carry one's money. There is also a big reduction in millinery, the new season's models being marked from a dollar up. Special bargains are seen in "Vivella" nannets at $1.95 a yard; these are in striped designs and are most suitable for children's night-wear, pyjamas and shirts. Then there is "Vivella" dress flannel at $2.75 a yard—suitable for dresses some smart designs being seen in checks, plaids and coloured.

The Dolly Vardon Hat Shop's sale is drawing to a close and I would advise anyone who has not yet visited this charming salon to make a point of dropping in within the next few days as there are really some amazing bargains to be snapped up. For instance, there are 50 hats valued at $20 offered at $5, another 50, originally priced at $25, going for $7.50, while another 50 beautiful models in the very latest modes have been marked down to the very low figure of $10. However, what I consider the most astounding bargains are the exquisite three and four-piece sports-suits which have been actually marked down 50 per cent, with the result that one can now obtain a most attractive outfit round about $35 to $75. The splendid value offered can only be appreciated after a visit to the Dolly Vardon Hat Shop.

The Caravan.—The new dresses are undeniably designed to make you look your loveliest, but they do ask for consideration so far as underwear is concerned. Busily elastic and heavy pleats won't give a smooth silhouette under a moulded frock, and you defeat the purpose of the new skirts if you wear a knee-length slip under an ankle-length frock. The choosing of one's underwear is of utmost importance and very often constitutes a problem. This, however, can be easily solved by making a short visit to the Caravan, either at their salon at the Peninsula Hotel or the charming shop in Chater Road. In addition to the very varied display of most beautiful lingerie, the management of the Caravan offers its expert advice, with the result that buying is simplified and becomes a pleasure. The prices asked are really extremely moderate and are well within the purse limits of any woman. The lingerie is characterized by exquisite workmanship and, coupled with the finest material, goes to make a perfect whole.

Maison Marnac.—A special fur sale is being held at this salon in the Gloucester Building and all the latest furs are seen in their large selection. Some charming evening dresses at this salon are in panne velvet or ring velvet, on which both black and white fur are used freely. This material is superb for achieving the long graceful draperies demanded by present day fashions. All these models are usually accompanied by a half length coat, richly trimmed with fur. Lace is seen again and used for the more Empire lines. Some of the models are typical examples of what can be done with the new chiffon lame, where the diagonal line is noticeable in the new models. Maison Marnac's expert is just as clever at designing dresses for debutantes as for older women and many examples of his creations have been seen lately in local hall-rooms.

Famila.—The winter sale at this salon is still going strong and the evening and day gowns are among the most charming I have seen this season. There seems to be something for everyone at this sale and prices are very moderate, chic models being priced at $20 and $30. There are bouffant picture frocks for young girls, gracefully draped models for the older woman, and a variety of elegant dinner gowns that few women could resist. Fortunately the present fashions allow one plenty of scope for individuality, and it is no exaggeration to say that you can choose your gowns to suit your type, and we no longer have to appear, as was the case a few years ago, in diphtheria that make women look as though they were all turned out of one monotonous mould.

The Colonial Dispensary.—"Buy British Goods" seems to be the slogan of the Colonial Dispensary in Gloucester Building and it is a slogan which should be taken up by all Britons in Hong Kong. This week this very attractive dispensary is displaying a variety of soap manufactured by celebrated British manufacturers. For example, there is Ave Eau de Cologne Soap, Gibbs' Lavender Dew Soap, Dubarry Bath Soap, Cusson's Baby Soap, Midgley's Household Soap and Yardley's Bath Soap—all at prices which compare very favourably with foreign makes. There is also a large variety of British toilet goods, beauty preparations, chocolates and perfumes. An early visit to this enterprising shop is clearly indicated.

Eunice.—"Eunice" is already known to quite a large number of people as an excellent dressmaker, but it may be news that she has recently opened a shop in the Peninsula Hotel arcade. When I looked in the other day she was just packing up a wedding order—bridal gown and bridesmaids' dresses to be worn to-morrow—and I was glad of the chance to see them before they left the shop. Eunice has plenty of pretty and original ideas for bridal wear and certainly these dresses are delightful. In the shop I noticed a very smart fur-trimmed coat of black corded silk, and several examples of the short little evening coat which is so fashionable at present. She tells me that she has several charming lace frocks for afternoon wear and I noticed some delightful beaded belts which she told me had just come from Paris. I think it would certainly interest you to look in at Eunice's when you are next in Kowloon, or if you live over the water, on your next shopping expedition.

Cosmetics Cannot Clear A Skin Clouded by Poisons

If women only realised what damage constipation can do to their looks they would dread it more than they dread time itself. For constipation—by setting up a state of self-poisoning—starves tissues and muscles of pure blood, without which they cannot retain their firmness and youth. The purpose of Eno's 'Fruit Salt' is to guard you against the slightest approach of this menace. Working by osmosis—Nature's own method—Eno makes sure that the foodways are punctually cleared before waste matter has time to become poisonous and infect the system. Eno is safe, sure and sufficient. Take Eno every morning.

AN APPETISER.

There are times, alas, when the appetite calls for stimulation; here is a capital way of securing the to-be-wished result. But it is not economical, for it leads to big eatings! Out some squares of rounds of delectable brown or white bread, and butter each lavishly. On this a thin spreading of anchovy paste. Then a grid of anchovy fillets cut into thin strips. On this a dusting of grated stale cheese. Then a very hot oven for a sufficient time or a touch under the grill. Let a shot as you can manage to do it. This is a suggestion, as the ingredients can be varied; as for example, a few drops of tomato ketchup in place of the anchovy paste, or of tinned fillets of herring instead of the anchovy ones. Indeed, it is a fine kitchen game, inventing or adapting appetisers. Play it!

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

WINTER COLOUR SCHEMES

Brown and yellow or brown and orange seem to be the favourite colours this winter, and many brown tweed suits are trimmed with one or the other of these colourings. A brown flecked tweed frock has a yellow stockinette collar, shaped like a scarf, and yellow cuffs to match.

Amusing Napkin Rings.

Children in particular will approve of some of the newest napkin rings, which provide a welcome change from the usual wide silver bands. These rings consist of a narrow band of silver, which goes round the napkin, and at one side is the figure of a tiny animal, such as a squirrel, bird or small dog, also of silver, which stands up from the napkin most realistically.

Lizard and Snake.

Suede and lizard skin are combined in some of the newest and most attractive shoes for wear this winter. The shoes are made in court shape, with heels and backs of suede, the pointed toes being of lizard skin and decorated in the front with tiny skin bows. Brown suede and fawn lizard skin are used for one smart pair, but other colours are also attractive.

Necklaces are Dainty.

Necklaces have grown so huge lately that they are almost grotesque and it is a relief to see small bead necklaces making an appearance again. Fashion seems to swing from one extreme to another in the matter of beads for the latest necklaces appear to be made of minute flowers, each petal being made of a tiny bead, with an even smaller circle of gold in the centre. Coral coloured or blue necklaces in this style are most attractive.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE'S NOTEBOOK.

Mint will keep fresh longer if washed in water to which a little bicarbonate of soda has been added.

Steel curbs and fireirons can be kept bright and free from rust by rubbing them occasionally with furniture polish.

The flavour of carrots will be improved if a pinch of sugar is added to them while cooking.

Moths can be kept from furs by putting a piece of linen damped in turpentine in the wardrobe in which they are stored.

A tablespoonful of sugar put into the tin while the joint is roasting improves the flavour and gives the gravy a richer colour.

The tops of kid gloves make excellent iron-holders, through which the heat takes a long time to penetrate; make with three or four layers of the kid and cover with a washing material.

LINGERIE LINE CHANGES.

FASHION NOW FAVOURS BIAS CUT.

Recent styles in clothes are having an influence on lingerie. The change in line has brought a new phase when, practically everything in the silken underwear line is being cut on the bias.

It is evident that this new phase is becoming a trend for elegant boudoir modes, such as pyjamas and rest and tea gowns. Little complications may arise in putting together sections cut on the bias, but the idea "gives" and then "grips" the figure on a princess line, as it were, obvious fastenings, and maintains the sleek surface of a gown. One renowned lingerie and corset specialist in Paris goes further still, and proves that garments cut to measure on this new line have a superior quality, as they slip on comfortably and take shape according to form—whether the silhouette is slender, medium, or full size.

Quadruple voile is a favourite medium in pale rose and a creamy tone of banana yellow for combinations, slip, and panties, while crepe de chine is almost exclusively reserved for night-gowns. The latest models are made on the bias, naturally takes a new turn to fall rhythmically against the bias cut. Full-length incrustations of lace are so arranged to form a decoration round the armholes, from where they are extended to effect, the "pinched in" waistline, and then hang in a semi-circular mood, at either side through the skirt length. The line is good executed in piece lace.

Deep Vandyck points are other themes in lace, and break up the stereotyped straight band. Vandyck points of lace are excellent motifs to achieve the brassiere top in bias slips made on a longer line but in the same spirit, as a promise to wear with panties.

All-in-One corsets, conveying brassiere tops of lace from satin and elastic depths, are advised for slim figures, and made of elastic entirely for the heavier ones. These corsets practically dip on to the waistline at the back, following an open evening dress décolleté. An identical movement is applied for day wear and sinks from a high front line, which moulds the figure rather than binds it under a separate brassiere. One can imagine how bias lingerie things as it hangs in a corresponding movement over these evening corsets.

Lace comes as a happy inspiration for simple Christmas presents when formed into little sleeveless boleros to wear over plain night-gowns made on one of the new lines.

Apart from the lingerie specialists, many designers in the "haute couture" love planning new lingerie modes. They are invariably de luxe items, with an extra special simplicity. Molyneux has just made a new group of floral mousseline nighties for young people on straight lines. Little boleros of the same printed mousseline sometimes conform, but dainty frills appear instead of lace. In many instances, the bolero line is extended to short jacket length.

DO YOU KNOW?

If a hinge creaks a small piece of soap applied on the point of a pencil will remedy the defect.

Shoe polish marks can be removed from stocking ankles by rubbing with methylated spirit.

Mud stains on silk umbrellas or rubber coats should be sponged off with vinegar.

THE CHILDREN'S CORNER.

THE ENGINE IN YOUR BODY.

A number of brave and kind people have recently given quantities of their blood to save the lives of other people. The blood is passed from the healthy person to a sick patient, and very often it enables the patient to recover and get strong once more.

There is a band of people always ready to help their fellows in this way. It weakens a person a good deal to give some of his blood to another. The amount of blood in a grown person is equal to about one-thirteenth of his total weight. Thus, if a man weighs 13 stones, he has 14 pounds of blood in his body.

This blood is pumped by the heart through the lungs and to all parts of the body, at a very rapid rate. Men of science tell us that the entire quantity of blood in the body passes through again and again, and as it passes through the lungs it picks up oxygen. In twenty-four hours 12,000 pints, or about eight tons, of blood are pumped through the lungs.

What an amazing machine the human heart is!

WHERE DID 1932 BEGIN?

Where exactly does a new year and a new day first come to the earth?

Day and night are caused by the rotation of the earth on its axis. As it turns round, different places keep coming in turn into the light of the Sun, and so the break of day travels round the earth.

But it is necessary that the nations should agree as to the particular part of the earth in which a new day and a new year is reckoned as beginning. For the sake of convenience it has been decided that the place so reckoned shall be on the other side of the world, on a zigzag line running down the earth from the North to the South, with eight deviations to link up certain islands.

It is called the International Date Line, and follows as nearly as possible the 180th meridian of longitude, because that meridian touches very little land.

When ships pass over the Date Line they adjust their clocks and calendars.

You'd never imagine he was the same child!

You remember how he was always ailing and wailing. Now look at the young imp! Always happy and into some mischief or other. "Lactogen" did it. And he loves it. He's gaining steadily. He's thriving.

"Lactogen" gives Baby every food element he needs and in exactly the right forms and proportions to build a strong digestive system, a sound constitution, good dense bone and firm muscles.

Unlike raw milk, "Lactogen" can never vary in quality. It is absolutely pure. Doctors and Nurses are enthusiastic about it. They're saying "PUT BABY ON LACTOGEN."

MOVIE NEWS

On the Screen in Hong Kong.

"ONLY SAPS WORK."

MODEL FAMILY MAN IN LEAD.

His appearance in a featured rôle in "Only Saps Work," the Paramount comedy-romance at the King's Theatre, marks the first time in 30 years that Charlie Grapewin has ever appeared in a theatrical rôle without his wife as his leading lady.

This time Charlie is alone, portraying the rôle of Mary Brian's father.

Grapewin first saw Anna Chance, the girl who was to become his stage and screen partner for so many years, in a box in a Philadelphia theatre where he was playing. She was the only one in the box party who failed to laugh at any of Grapewin's gags.

The actor didn't rest until he had arranged an introduction. Three days later the pair were married.

Grapewin coached his wife in footlights technique and made her his leading woman in music hall skits and stage productions.

When he entered the talking pictures as a Christie Comedy star, his wife played the leads opposite him.

In "Only Saps Work" there were no rôles suitable to her type and so the thirty-year partnership had to end temporarily.

In the end with Grapewin and Miss Brian are Leon Errol, the famous stage comedian of the col-lapsible knees, who made such a great hit as the hospital patient in "Paramount on Parade"; Richard Arlen, Miss Brian's leading man in a number of other talking pictures, and Stuart Erwin, the blonde and befuddled "sap" of "Sweetie," and "Dangerous Man McGrew."

The story is one of the best comedies ever written by Owen Davis, the distinguished American playwright.

MARIE AND POLLY
IN "POLITICS."ROUSING COMEDY COMING TO QUEEN'S.

A complete city hall and an entire town street, one of the largest single exterior settings constructed since the coming of the talkies, were erected to usher Marie Dressler into film stardom.

This is the big city hall set where the torchlight processions, rallies and other demonstrations, are staged by Marie in "Politics," her new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture which will come on Sunday to the Queen's Theatre. It is her first appearance since recently promoted to full stardom.

The construction of the huge set was interesting. As an exterior building it had to be very solid—so every wall was treated acoustically, and the sidewalks were laid over foundations of porous material to absorb the bulk of the noise of footsteps.

Marie Runs for Mayor.

The new picture is a hilarious story of Marie's running for the mayor's job with Polly Moran as her campaign manager. They organize the women's vote, expose the crooked mayor and his gangster satellites, call out all the women on strike against their husbands when the men try to organize, and generally raise the dickens. There are laughs galore. There are dramatic scenes, too, where Marie Dressler has some remarkable character acting.

Charles F. Riesner directed the new picture, in which a notable cast appears, including Roscoe Ates, Karen Morley, William Bakewell, John Miljan, Joan Marsh, Tom McGuire, Kane Richmond and Mary Alden. The story is an original by Zella Sears and Malcolm Stuart Boylan. It was adapted by Wells Root with dialogue by Robert E. Hopkins.

"THE SECRET CALL."

FILM OF AMERICAN POLITICS.

To Richard Arlen fell the happy lot of playing the rôle of leading man opposite Peggy Shannon, Hollywood's latest "Lucky Girl."

Miss Shannon was thrust into film-fame when she was cast in the principal romantic part of "The Secret Call" after the part was vacated by the sudden illness of Clara Bow.

The story deals with events in a big city during an electioneering campaign. Miss Shannon, whose politician father dies a victim of the persecution of the "big boss" of the political machine which runs the city, gets a job as a telephone operator in a big hotel. As such she learns many of the secrets of the politicians, and is in a position to damage the "big boss" so much that he will lose his grip on the voters. But she learns that Arlen, her sweetheart, is the son of the "big boss."

Thus the plot brings together a number of thrilling dramatic forces, which end pleasingly in a romantic climax.

"The Secret Call" comes to the King's Theatre on Sunday next.

BRITISH FILM BOOM
—THE TRUTH.WE MUST GET OUR STARS AND BOOST THEM.

Fingertips are all for British films at the moment. It is a fact which has not as yet been recorded in print for the very good reason that I feel that overstatements of the merit of home film products, inspired by patriotism have done a good deal of harm to the Elstree industry.

To say "this film is better than Hollywood can do," implying thereby that you are hitting the height of literary superlatives, is a wretched habit with some of my colleagues.

Let us examine this British film began dispassionately.

It is a wayward thing. Hollywood has built up its own successful and glittering edifice on the star system. They think stars over there, like this:—

"Greta Garbo is slipping. Holster her with stars in support. William Powell has been a cad and a lady-killer too long. Make him a hero."

And over here we have no stars.

Yes, there is a British film boom on, but it won't last if the executives don't make strenuous efforts to make permanent stars of the present favourites.

An American, Walter Morosco, put the whole case in a nutshell for me recently.

"I came over here," he said, "to form an English organisation and started by looking for talent. I saw plenty swimming about, but couldn't catch much."

"All the beautiful and clever young women over here are willing to take film work, but a contract—no! You can't rope 'em in."

"You can't lure 'em away from the glitter and the glamour of the West End, where Lord Thingumbob is in the stage box and there's no director to make 'em jump."

He mentioned one young woman of moderate beauty and talent who has received extravagant and very damaging praise from critics. He tried to sign her up, seeing possibilities in her. But he didn't succeed.

Frankly, the position is this: There are five men in England who can put the British film industry up on its hind legs and kicking like mad. They are all employed by the same group and their names are Sydney Howard, Herbert Marshall, Gordon Harker, Hugh Wakefield, and Jack Hulbert.

I should like to be able to add Jack Buchanan to the list, and I hope I shall soon be able to add Tom Walls, the greatest of them all, for I hear he is getting well. These men have an appeal quite as strong, in their several English ways, as Gary Cooper, Ronald Colman, Wallace Berry and Walter Huston.

They need violent excitation and clever screen writers to keep them going.

But just a minute. This picture is too rosy. What about the women?

Ladies.

Yes, there's the snag. Some people say that it's because Englishwomen are ladies and don't permit a reasonable intensity in their emotions. I wonder whether (Nell Gwynn was a lady. Was Marie Lloyd?

No it's not that. Miss Eliasa Landi, whom I found in a very highbrow mood when she returned to London, a month ago, fresh from Hollywood triumphs, is certainly a lady and as certainly vital screen material.

Perhaps Mr. Morosco is right. Catch 'em young and work 'em and you've got your Garbos.

The British film industry has succeeded in catching several young ladies young, but has omitted to work 'em hard. So they remain ladies and attend charity balls. Some of them open local bazaars.

I am reminded here of the plaintive cry of the late Mr. Harry Weldon—"Any lady?" I would suggest that as the present slogan of the British film industry.

Meanwhile, our Dorothy (ex-Chili) Bouchiers and our Belle Chrystall must work very hard.

The Truth.

The truth about this British film boom is that it is doomed to be sporadic unless other men capture something of the spirit and the sense of Mr. Michael Balcon, generalissimo of the Gaumont-Palace-borough forces. He believes in stars. I hope he's hitched his wagon to several. Paul Holt in the Daily Sketch.

DEATH OF MR. H. BIRKETT.

WELL-KNOWN LOCAL BROKER.

INTEREST IN THE TURF.

News was received in the Colony yesterday, of the death, which occurred in London on Wednesday, of Mr. Henry Birkett, a well-known broker of the Colony.

The late Mr. Birkett was 58 years of age and retired from business in Hong Kong some five years ago. He was then senior partner of the firm of Messrs. Moxon and Taylor, share brokers and was for a time the Chairman of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange.

Prior to arriving in the Colony, he had already established a name for himself in Manila as a very successful broker. He was at one time with Messrs. Smith Bell and Company and subsequently started a business of his own under the name of Birkett and Company in Manila.

He joined the firm of Messrs. Moxon and Taylor on coming to Hong Kong and became one of the leading brokers in the Colony.

Racing Interests.

The late Mr. Birkett, however, will be remembered by a large circle of friends for the interest he had always taken in racing. He owned a very successful stable and his "Star" ponies will be remembered for years to come. In 1922, his candidate for the Derby, Sun Star carried off the race, the jockey on that occasion being Mr. Doyle. He was the Clerk of the Course of the Hong Kong Jockey Club during the years 1921 and 1922.

Race-goers to Fanling also have cause to remember the name of Mr. Birkett, for he was one of the moving spirits which brought about the existence of the course and was the first joint master of the Kwantung bounds.

Mr. Henry Birkett was a brother of Sir Thomas Birkett, formerly of Colcutta, India. He leaves a widow and a daughter to mourn his loss, the latter being the wife of Lt. Commander Danglefield, at present serving on the H.M.S. Nelson of the Atlantic Fleet.

JUNK INSPECTOR AT TSUN WAN.

SUGGESTION BY HON.
MR. BRAGA.

VOTES PASSED BY FINANCE COMMITTEE.

At yesterday's meeting of the Finance Committee of the Legislative Council, votes totalling $17,721 in respect of the Estimates for 1931 were approved by the meeting. A sum of $19,599 in connection with the Estimates for 1932 was also approved.

An item of $1,834, the details of which are given below, was the subject of a suggestion by Mr. Braga. The vote reads as follows:—

Salary at rate of $2,000 per annum of a temporary Assistant Inspector of Junks for Harbour Master's Cheung Chau Station for the period 1/2/32 to 31/12/32, no provision for which was made in 1932 Estimates.

The revenue at Cheung Chau is collected by the Police Department. It is estimated that the appointment of a full time Junk Inspector will effect a considerable increase in receipts from junk licences.

Junk Traffic Revenue.

Hon. Mr. Braga. Can you please inform the Committee how we stand in regard to Tsun Wan Bay. Is there a full time Inspector of Junks at Tsun Wan?

The Chairman (Hon. Mr. W. T. Southern): I cannot tell you off-hand, but I think not. It does not seem to me to arise on this question.

Hon. Mr. Braga: No, but from the explanatory note attached to it under item No. 2, apparently this is a good investment on the part of the Government. For the cost of an Assistant Junk Inspector's salary you will be getting in revenue which has previously escaped collection. As far as I have been able to notice on my visits to Tsun Wan recently, junk traffic there is growing all the time and I put forward as a suggestion that, in order to be able to collect all the revenue that we can lay our hands on in respect of the junk trade at Tsun Wan, an appointment might be made of a considerable value by the Harbour Authorities.

The Chairman: I think it is worth while investigating.

Hon. Mr. Braga: I think it is worth while anyway.

The Chairman: Thank you very much, Mr. Braga. I will have that point looked into.

YAUMATI SCHOOL.

ANNUAL PRIZE-GIVING
YESTERDAY.

MR. SUTHERLAND'S HINTS
FOR LEARNING ENGLISH.

Mr. A. R. Sutherland, who gave away the prizes at the Yaumati School yesterday, gave the boys of the school some practical advice as to how they could improve their English.

Mr. Sutherland suggested that one way to do so was for the boys to form themselves into English speaking clubs and to meet once, twice or even three times during the week and to go for long ramblings among the Kowloon hills, determined to speak nothing but English. They could try and exchange views and to describe what they had seen and this would not only improve their English but give them a better knowledge of the countryside around them.

The Report.

The Headmaster, Mr. C. Mycock, in the course of his school report, stated that the school was opened 338 times and the maximum enrolment was 257. The average daily attendance was 241, or 97.4 per cent. The absences in most cases had been caused by sickness. The railway disaster in April at Taiipo interfered with the attendance of boys from the New Territories, but it was praiseworthy to find that so many of them walked to school until leave of absence was granted them.

The discipline throughout the school remained good. There had been cases of misbehaviour in Classes 4, but they were of a very minor nature.

Dr. Laing, the Assistant M. O. Schools, carried out inspections on three occasions during the year. 35 boys received Government spectacles. To Dr. Lee Ying-yau at the Public Dispensary and the M. O. Kowloon, thanks were due for their treatment of 63 cases of minor illness.

"I think," continued Mr. Mycock, "parents are now beginning to appreciate the value of these inspections by showing a greater willingness than formerly to act on recommendations made. An invitation to be present at these inspections is extended to all parents or guardians concerned."

High Standard.

"In English, 232 boys were examined and 197 passed, 85 per cent. In Chinese, 229 boys were examined and 206 passed, 90 per cent. The general standard of work, considering the material we have, is high. Boys from the New Territories are, generally speaking, backward in comparison with the town boys. By the time they reach Class 5 and 6, they have usually gravitated to the B Division. I would like to see an improvement in the Standard of Oral and Written Composition in most classes. Class 4 presented 29 boys for examination, of whom 19 passed or 65.5 per cent. Four boys failed in Chinese. The results were as expected and conformed to those of the half-yearly examination. The class did not do itself justice in either mathematics or geography."

"In June the Chinese Y.M.C.A., Kowloon, organized a Chinese Essay Competition open to teams of four from all schools in Kowloon for a sum kindly presented by Mr. Fung Keung. Wong Ting-ho obtained 98 marks and was placed 2nd in the task. The team won the cup with a total of 380/400 marks."

"The Library is used almost daily. The supply of periodicals has been maintained, and the boys are beginning to show a little more decided interest in the affairs of the outside world."

"I wish to thank my staff for their loyal support and co-operation during the year. With a continuance of the happy tone prevailing in the school, it is an easy matter to predict progress and success in the future."

Muzzling Order.

EUROPEAN FINED.

Mr. W. M. Gittins appeared before Mr. Fraser at Kowloon Magistrate's yesterday in answer to a summons for allowing his dog to maul without a muzzle.

Mr. Fraser: You are here now in answer to a summons for allowing your dog to maul without a muzzle. You are charged with attempting to steal tools from his motor-car. Yes, your Worship.

Asked why he was not in Court last week, Mr. Gittins explained that he was busy and was unable to come.

His Worship:—You run a risk, you know, in not answering your summons. However, under the circumstances, we will not take that into consideration. Do you plead guilty?

Mr. Gittins:—Oh, yes, your Worship.

A fine of $5 was imposed.

CHRIST CHURCH, SHAMEN.

BISHOP OFFICIATES AT RE-OPENING.

Last Sunday morning a new page in the life and history of Christ Church, Shamen, was completed.

In the midst of all the anxiety and depression prevailing throughout the world this little church, in the fullest sense of the word, has taken on a new lease of life. For nearly seventy years Christ Church has stood where it is to minister to all who have cause to draw near and use its services. Some seven months ago it became known that the roof of the building was in bad condition and in need of a thorough overhaul, expert opinion recommending an entirely new roof. It was thus obvious that whatever decision might be made regarding repairs, a considerable amount of money would have to be spent on renovating the Church, and the Committee decided to follow the advice given and build a new roof. This entailed closing the building and holding the usual services elsewhere while repairs were being carried out. The Committee were very fortunate in being granted by the Master and Wardens the use of the Hall of the Masonic Lodge for the Sunday morning services. To them, as the Bishop of Victoria said in his address, a debt of gratitude is due for their act of courtesy in loaning the Hall free of all charge. The Masonic Hall, it should be added, was admirably suited to this new purpose.

A Serious Problem.

Seeing that the present is a time when the rendition of concessions and all that this may involve is being frequently discussed by foreigners in China, the Church Committee naturally gave this point their careful consideration before deciding on the scheme for renovation. They are to be congratulated on taking a broad view of the position, and for their determination to tackle with courage the big task before them, which they have now completed successfully. The work was carried out by Messrs. Blackmore and Blackmore Ltd. of Hong Kong under the supervision of Mr. Thomas Brimfield L.R.I.B.A. who are to be congratulated on the result of their labours. Christ Church Shamen is once again a worthy place in which many years, the work for which all churches are built, and satisfaction may be felt when one realises that posterity will possess a church of which it may be justly proud, whether the status of the concession be changed or not.

There still, however, remains the inevitable burden of debt. (In this case H.K.$18,000) to be cleared off now that the actual work of reconstruction is finished. As the Bishop pointed out in his address at the opening service, this is too large a sum for such a small community as that now living on Shamen to raise unaided, that is, if the debt is to be wiped out as a reasonably early date. It is therefore almost unnecessary to add here that donations towards the Christ Church Repair Fund from any persons who may read these lines will be gratefully acknowledged by the Committee.

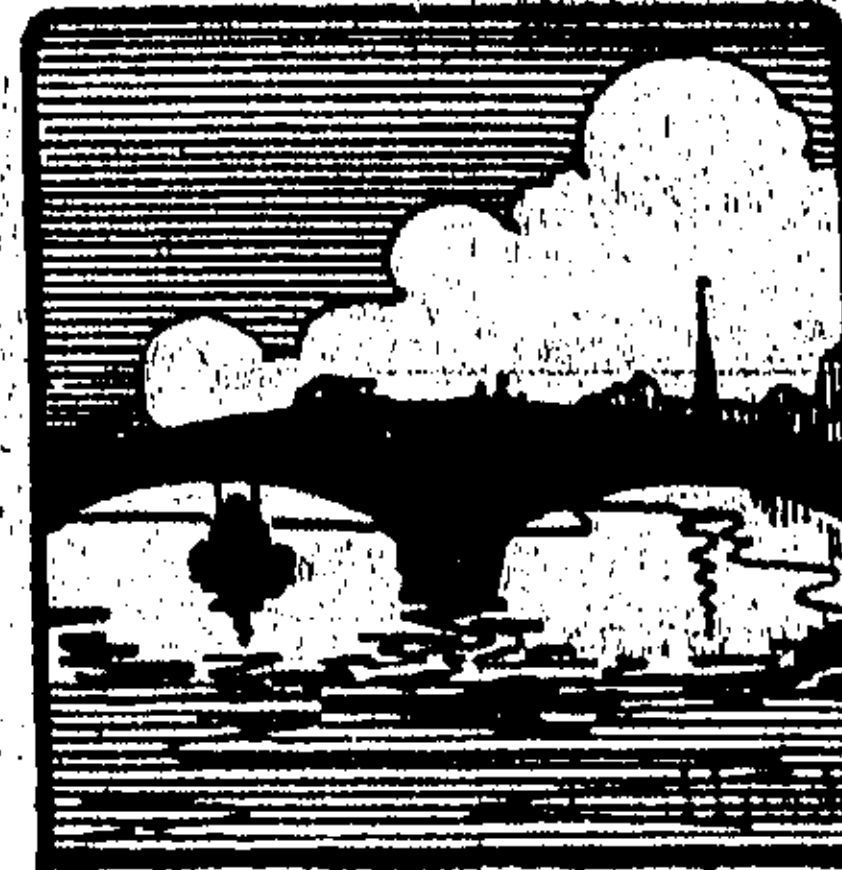

The Ceremony.

The re-opening ceremony which took place at the hour usual for Morning Prayer, was in the form of a specially prepared service of thanksgiving and re-dedication with Matins following. The service opened with the singing of Psalm CXXII. "I was glad when they said unto me, 'During the singing of this the Bishop, preceded by the clergy, the Revs. C.I. Blanchett and H. A. Wittenbaer, the latter hearing the Bishop's Pastoral Staff, moved up the aisle from the South Door to his seat in the Sanctuary. Then followed the bidding and prayers led by the Bishop after which, all kneeling, "Veni Creator Spiritus" was sung. Prayers having a special bearing on the occasion were then said, the Bishop again leading, and then after the hymn "Now thank we all our God" had been sung, that part of the service directly connected with the re-opening of the Church concluded. Matins followed on immediately and a feature in this service was the singing of Sir George Elvey's anthem "I was glad when they said unto me" by the choir who, together with the organists, are to be congratulated on a fine rendering.

A Memorial Occasion.

Among those at the service were H.B.M. Consul General and Mrs. Herbert Phillips, The Sargor Naval Officer and other officers and men of the West River Patrol, as well as many residents in Shamen and elsewhere. All present helped by their hearty singing to make the service a reality and an inspiration, and the occasion a memorable one in the already interesting history of Christ Church, Shamen.

BATHING FACILITIES IN THE COLONY.

WHILE news of cataclysmic events in other parts of the world has power to excite the most lively interests, the affairs of the place where one lives are still the first concern of the average person. Some such apology seems needed just now for devoting this column to a comparatively minor and local matter that is not even seasonable at this time of year. We are able to announce, however, that with regard to the bathing benches at North Point that the Government is not, as a correspondent to our columns feared, resuming possession of those sites in the near future. Nothing will be disturbed this year, but beyond that the future is uncertain, and in course of time the projected reclamations will be put in hand, and the present tenants will have to seek other accommodation.

A very knotty little problem has arisen over bathing beaches. The two towns, Kowloon and Victoria, have grown at an amazing rate in recent years, with corresponding increase of port and industrial development. The result is that the bathing facilities of the Colony should be sacrificed to the demands of bathers. Moreover, the coming of the oil age has not improved the cleanliness of the harbour, so that facilities have declined in quality as well as quantity.

While this process has been in progress, the youthful section of the Chinese community, largely abetted by British instigation, has taken to the water. In the old days when good bathing was to be had China's youth would have been aghast at such practices as mixed bathing. It would almost seem as if they were deliberately seeking to embarrass a paternal and benevolent government. But whatever the bathers' motives may be North Point is dense with shrimp-pink bathers on a fine summer day, and what will they do when the place is closed?

The Government, we understand, is investigating the possibilities of Lai Chi Kok. A beach developed in that large and growing country would certainly be a boon. The sea there is not altogether free of oil and other undesirable matter, but a fair tide sweeps the district and the water is no worse than elsewhere. The Kowloon Residents' Association last year made the suggestion that open air bathing pools should be constructed in the Peninsula. The harbour water could be filtered and a scheme of constant circulation of water through the pools should present no difficulty. English swimming baths, both private and municipal, are a paying proposition, and the bathing craze is just as strong here as at home. In British towns certain obvious difficulties are met by having "first class" and "second class" periods. Those who like to pay extra for their pleasures are thus accommodated. Perhaps private enterprise in Hong Kong—if given adequate terms—might construct swimming pools, and also develop outlying beaches by building sheds, arranging bus and launch transport, and providing refreshments. People in Hong Kong want to bathe during the summer, but under present conditions the need must be catered for and arranged ahead during the winter season. There is no great difficulty about the matter; the running of these Lidos should be a paying proposition, and no doubt the Government would be prepared to give reasonable terms and security of tenure.

JAZZING THE CLASSICS.

ONE of the resolutions of the Incorporated Society of Musicians' Conference in London raises a question which, though small in itself, is of general significance. The Society resolved to make the strongest possible representations to the B.B.C. against the practice of broadcasting jazz versions of tunes from the classics. The parody—and that is what a jazz version of a serious melody naturally becomes—can, as we know, be an excellent thing. For example, GUSTAV HOLST's opera, "The Perfect Fool," is among other things an expression of a certain set of opinions on Wagner. And it is more than that. It is a warning not so much against taking Wagner too seriously when we set up as admirers of WAGNER.

Here is a fine distinction, and tact is needed in drawing it. Unfortunately the parodies we hear are too often sentimental perversions, crude misrepresentations which show the borrower's incapacity to understand the material he has plundered. They attach themselves unpleasantly to our memories of the original. If the B.B.C. found it practicable to do some judicious pruning on lines which might set an example elsewhere many a listener would be grateful.

STANDING LAW COMMITTEE.

The Hon. Attorney-General,
The Hon. Secretary for Chinese Affairs,
The Hon. Sir Henry Pollock,
The Hon. Mr. W. E. L. Shepton,

ALLEGED PARTNERSHIP.

INDIAN MERCHANTS IN A LAWSUIT.

An action was commenced in the Supreme Court yesterday before the Chief Justice (Sir Joseph Kemp) in which three Indians are at variance over an alleged partnership in business.

Rattanchand Jaramdas, of China Building, used Prasadamas Hashmatrai Vaswani and Utomai Thadani, 23, Wyndham Street, Plaintiff claims that on January 15, 1929, he entered into partnership with the defendants for five years, but the partnership was dissolved by agreement on January 31, 1930, plaintiff then, retiring from the partnership. On the date of the dissolution it was verbally agreed that an account should be taken, but the defendants refused to take such an account.

Plaintiff claimed for (1) accounts and enquiries, (2) payment of the amount found due, and (3) other and further relief and costs. Defendants deny that on any date they entered into partnership with plaintiff, and claim that he is not, therefore, entitled to the claim set out.

It is alleged by plaintiff that for the sum of $4,000 he became a partner in the importing and exporting business of Messrs. Jhuraj Co., 20, Wyndham Street, but the other side claim it was a loan which was to earn 20 per cent of the net profits, but did not carry partnership with it.

Mr. Leo D'Almada, junior, instructed by Mr. Leo D'Almada, senior, was for plaintiff, and Mr. P. C. Jenkin, K.C., instructed by Mr. F. C. E. Randall, of Messrs. Russ & Co., was for defendant. The case was adjourned.

WEDDING JEOPARDISED.

TAILOR GETS BAIL TO FINISH DRESS.

Appearing to defend one of three Chinese who were charged with assault and demanding money ($100) with menaces, Mr. H. E. Leachy said that he was applying for bail for his client in the sum of $150 because his client was a tailor and had undertaken to deliver a wedding dress by a certain date. Unless bail was allowed, the wedding dress would not be ready and the wedding would have to be postponed.

Mr. Hin Shing Lo, who appeared for the complainant, pointed out that the case was a serious one and indicated the possibility of further charges being preferred against the defendants. He suggested bail of $500.

His Worship granted bail of $250 and adjourned the case for a week.

Alabaster, said that the Bill had been drafted by the Committee appointed to consider the question and was in the form recommended by them, subject to minor corrections as to re-arrangement, except their recommendation with regard to the inclusion of Justices of Peace, which had not been included.

FRACAS IN CAIRO

MOSLEM CONVERTED BY HYPNOTISM!

(Reuter's Special Service.)

CAIRO, Jan. 27. The conversion of a Moslem student by an American missionary, who, it is alleged, used hypnotism to achieve this end, led to a first-class fracas here to-day.

A crowd of indignant Moslems attacked a cafe, which, they claimed, was run by American missionaries with the object of attracting Moslems in order ultimately to convert them.

IMPERIAL ECONOMIC CONFERENCE

PREPARATORY WORK NOW PROGRESSING

(BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.)

Rugby, Jan. 27. Preparations for the Imperial Economic Conference, provisionally fixed for the second week in July at Ottawa, are making good progress.

The Dominions Secretary, Mr. J. H. Thomas, in an interview, said that representatives of the British Government would attend unhampered by adherence to any particular creed, which, hitherto, had guided British policy. For the Conference to achieve lasting and beneficial results, concessions must not be all on one side, and, for this reason, the British Government had a special interest in the viewpoints of those Dominions whose individual interests differed widely. Detailed examination in advance of matters to be discussed was consequently essential, and here, and in the Dominions, representatives of the Governments concerned were in contact.

The Cabinet Committee, under the former Premier, Mr. Stanley Bruce, is directing the preparatory work in Australia, and the South African Government had appointed representatives for a similar purpose. The British Government was discussing the trade questions that would arise with interested bodies in Britain, and to-morrow (Mr. Thomas) will meet the British Committee on Empire Trade, comprising representatives of the Federation of British Industries and Association of British Chambers of Commerce, Chamber of Shipping, and representatives of several manufacturing and trade associations.

Mr. Thomas also said, that to advance the date of the Conference was impossible, in view of the domestic affairs here and in the dominions, and in view of the preliminary work to be done. Meanwhile, no negotiations whatever on trade relations with foreign countries would be undertaken that would prejudice free and unfettered discussion at Ottawa.

The converted student is being sheltered by friends, as he has been threatened with death.

The American University authorities disclaim knowledge of the missionary concerned.

The Hong Kong University Education Society held its annual general meeting on Wednesday afternoon, when Mr. Cheung King Pak presided over a large gathering. Prof. L. Forster and Mr. Yeap Choong Yow, B.A. were among those present.

In reviewing the past year, the Hon. Secretary (Miss K. Lai) said that the Society had passed a successful year, and the financial position was sound. The Educational Journal, under the able editorship of Mr. Yeap Choong Yow, was a great success. A Free Night School was formed with the object of teaching poor boys in the district of Saiyung-nun. That idea was started by Prof. Forster (applause).

STATE OF EMERGENCY DECLARED

SHANGHAI VOLUNTEERS MOBILISED JAPANESE OCCUPY CHAPEI

NAVIES ORDERED TO STAND BY Foreign Troops Guarding Settlement

CHINESE FORCES THREATEN TO BOMBARD SHANGHAI

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

SHANGHAI, January 28.

IN VIEW OF THE TENSE SITUATION EXISTING HERE THE SHANGHAI VOLUNTEER CORPS WAS MOBILISED AT 3.30 P.M. TO-DAY.

THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL HAS DECLARED A STATE OF EMERGENCY IN SHANGHAI. IT IS LEARNED THAT THIS AND THE MOBILISATION OF THE VOLUNTEERS IS DUE TO A THREAT BY CHINESE TROOPS OUTSIDE THE SETTLEMENT TO BOMBARD SHANGHAI.

IT IS RELIABLY ESTIMATED THAT THERE ARE NOW 24,000 CHINESE TROOPS ON THE SETTLEMENT BORDERS AND THEIR POSSIBLE ACTIONS ARE CAUSING ANXIETY. IT IS, HOWEVER, HOPED THAT THEY WILL PEACEFULLY WITHDRAW. BUT AS THEY ARE SOMEWHAT OUT OF HAND THIS SEEMS UNLIKELY. AND THEREFORE THE QUESTION FOR DECISION NOW IS: SHALL THE JAPANESE CLEAR THEM OFF OR SHALL THIS DEVOLVE JOINTLY ON THE JAPANESE, BRITISH, AMERICAN AND OTHER TROOPS STATIONED HERE?

THE SETTLEMENT DEFENCE AUTHORITIES ARE MOVING QUICKLY TO PREVENT ANY POSSIBLE DISORDERS FOLLOWING ANY ACTION EITHER THE CHINESE OR JAPANESE MAY TAKE. ALL SECTORS WILL BE GUARDED.

BRITISH TROOPS WILL TAKE OVER THE HUNGJAO DEFENCE LINE AND THE AMERICANS AVENUE HAIG AND SOOCHOW CREEK LINES.

THE JAPANESE ARE NOW GUARDING THE HONGKEW SECTOR AND THE YANGTSEPOO AREAS.

THE FRENCH FORCES IN THE FRENCH CONCESSION ARE ACTIVELY CO-OPERATING WITH THE AUTHORITIES OF THE SETTLEMENT.

AMERICAN, BRITISH AND FRENCH WARSHIPS ARE TAKING PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES. ALL LEAVE PASSES HAVE BEEN WITHDRAWN, MEN HAVING RECEIVED ORDERS TO STAND BY.

JAPAN DECIDES TO MOVE

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

SHANGHAI, January 28.

REAR-ADMIRAL SHIOZAWA, COMMANDING THE FIRST JAPANESE OVERSEAS SQUADRON, HAS PROCLAIMED HIS DECISION TO TAKE THE NECESSARY MILITARY ACTIONS AT CHAPEI, WHERE NUMEROUS JAPANESE RESIDE. IN ORDER TO PRESERVE PEACE AND ORDER, HE EXPRESSED THE EARNEST HOPE THAT THE CHINESE AUTHORITIES WOULD SPEEDILY WITHDRAW THE NATIVE TROOPS STATIONED AT CHAPEI AND REMOVE ALL HOSTILE DEFENCES. HE EXPLAINED THE NAVAL GIRCLES ACTION WAS NECESSITATED IN ORDER TO EFFECTIVELY PROTECT JAPANESE NATIONALS RESIDING IN AREAS WHERE AN EXTREME DANGER OF DISORDER AND LAWLESSNESS IS FEARED AND ALSO BECAUSE OF THE PRESENCE OF A LARGE NUMBER OF UNDISCIPLINED TROOPS ADOPTING A CHALLENGING AND MENACING ATTITUDE AGAINST JAPANESE.

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

SHANGHAI, January 28.

Although the Chinese have acceded to the Japanese demands, the Japanese Admiral Shiozawa has decided to occupy Chapei to-night.

It is authoritatively stated that orders have been issued to Japanese marines to move at midnight. At present an occupation party a thousand strong is standing by in motor trucks.

Admiral Shiozawa is reported to have stated "The Japanese Navy has decided to distribute Naval forces in the Chapei district in order to maintain peace and order."

British and American forces and Volunteers are patrolling the sections of the Settlement allotted to them by Brigadier-General Fleming for the maintenance of peace and order.

CHINA ACCEPTS JAPAN'S DEMANDS

SHANGHAI, January 28.

Mr. Murali announces officially that the Chinese have accepted the four Japanese demands, namely, a formal apology and the payment of an indemnity; the arrest and punishment of the offenders and the control of anti-Japanese movements.

Mr. Murali says that the Chinese reply states that the anti-Japanese and Salvation Societies in Shanghai have been ordered to close down by the Chinese authorities because they have exceeded their authorised powers, and the Mayor has prohibited all similar activities.

Mr. Murali further adds that he has replied that the reply is satisfactory, but that the most important point is whether the Chinese will keep faith in carrying out their promises, he is, therefore, compelled to watch carefully that this is done and has warned the Chinese authorities that if they fail to give satisfaction, the Japanese will take whatever steps they consider necessary without giving any further notice.

BOYCOTT AND LAWLESS ACTIVITIES MUST CEASE

TOKYO, Jan. 28.

For the purpose of avoiding any misunderstanding regarding the contemplated naval operations at Shanghai, Mr. Yoshizawa has instructed Japanese diplomatic representatives abroad to explain to the Governments to which they are accredited that, so long as the Chinese authorities permit anti-Japanese organisations and other lawless elements to continue their lawless activities, Japan will be forced to adopt strong measures in self-defence for the protection of Japanese in Shanghai and elsewhere.

Three more warships have been ordered to prepare to proceed to Shanghai.

FOREIGN INTERFERENCE?

New York, Jan. 28.

The United States is awaiting Britain's answer to the suggestion that a common stand should be made against the Japanese "invasion" of China.

All signs, according to a Reuter message from Washington, point to some definite action being taken as high officials have been studying with unconcealed gravity the ominous developments at Shanghai.

Two possible lines of action are unofficially suggested; Anglo-American economic pressure, which would include blocking of an embargo on Japanese goods; a joint naval display in Chinese waters.

MANCHURIA CORRESPONDENCE PUBLISHED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.

On the eve of the termination of the Japanese ultimatum to China, the State Department has published all the correspondence with Japan, China and the League with reference to Manchuria, in response to a resolution adopted by the Senate.

It consists of sixty-four pages of documents sent to the Senate by Mr. Stimson. It reveals a number of sharply worded memoranda to Japan, which have not before been published.

The fact that the complete file has been furnished to the Senate, at a critical moment in the situation, is taken to indicate, definitely, that the State Department desires, without reservation, to discontinue its relations with Japan before any further steps are taken.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. The British Ambassador had a long interview with Mr. Stimson at the latter's home on the situation in Shanghai.

MORE INFORMATION REQUESTED

TOKYO, Jan. 28.

It is learned that Washington has requested Tokyo for more specific information regarding what steps are contemplated at Shanghai. It is understood that the communication could not be regarded as a protest, but that it is more in the form of an enquiry.

JAPANESE ASSURANCES

TOKYO, Jan. 28.

"Apprehension that Japanese will take action inside the International Settlement at Shanghai is absolutely unfounded, declared a Foreign Office spokesman.

As the Shanghai Municipal authorities have promised to close (Continued on Page 12).

COMMUNIST SCARE AT HANKOW

ADVANCE GUARDS 10 MILES FROM CITY

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

HANKOW, Jan. 28.

Hankow, like Shanghai, is living in a state of feverish excitement but from different causes. The Communist armies who have recently been ravaging districts north of Hankow are closing in on the city. Their advance guards have reached a point ten miles away.

WAR DEBTS AND REPARATIONS

WHAT ELIMINATION WOULD NOT MEAN

A New Heaven Upon Earth

(Reuter's Special Service.)

LONDON, Jan. 28.

A WARNING against the belief that the elimination of War Debts and Reparations would create a new Heaven upon Earth, was uttered by Mr. Beckett, Chairman of the Westminster Bank, to-day.

He said it was misleading to suppose that such a development would enable all nations to start from scratch and added: "There are some which in the coming negotiations have all to gain and nothing to lose but Great Britain occupies a position between these two extremes."

If War Debts and Reparations were eliminated, Britain's colossal internal debt would become burdensome and taxation would remain, while some of her commercial and industrial creditors would secure relief from their already comparatively light obligations.

NO CHANGE IN BANK RATE

(BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.)

RUGBY, Jan. 28.

There is no change in the bank rate to-day.

SUBMARINE DISASTER

ALL HOPE OF SAVING CREW ABANDONED TERRIBLE FATE OF OFFICERS AND MEN

(REUTER AND BRITISH WIRELESS.)

RUGBY, Jan. 28.

Although hope has not been entirely abandoned, the gravest fears are now entertained regarding the fate of 56 officers and men of the submarine M.2.

The vessel has not been seen and no signal has been received from her since she dived off Portland Bill yesterday morning, and although numerous naval craft, assisted by planes, have been continuously searching the area since the alarm was first raised yesterday evening, so far the vessel has not been definitely located.

The M.2 was equipped with a small Parnell Elsie aeroplane and among the missing men are two members of the Royal Air Force personnel, Lieut. H. C. Toppin and Lieut. C. R. Townsend.

The officers of the submarine are Lieut. Commander J. D. de M. Leashes (in command), Lieut. S. MacDonald, Lieut. H. C. R. Head, Sub. Lieut. T. G. Hill and Wt. Engineer E. P. Birkett.

LONDON, Jan. 28. Although divers and salvage men worked all night long, no news has been received of the submarine M.2 and hope is practically abandoned. It is now believed that seven officers and fifty-three men were aboard.

PRINCE APPEALS TO NATION

OLD AND YOUNG ASKED TO GIVE OF THEIR BEST

"Not a Few Months of Grin and Bear It"

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

LONDON, Jan. 27.

In a striking speech at the Albert Hall the Prince of Wales sent out a rallying call to the whole of Britain, young and old, to give of their best in the national crisis.

There were nearly 10,000 boys and girls in the Albert Hall and the speech was broadcast.

"The Prince urged all to 'enlist for the duration,' for 'we are not just facing a few months of grin and bear it.'"

He appealed particularly on behalf of the unemployed and urged all those in work to play the part of a neighbour and friend to those unemployed.

Millions Hear Prince's Appeal.

TUESDAY, Jan. 28.

A striking appeal to the youth of the nation for personal service and a spirit of trust and kindness in these troublous times was made by the Prince of Wales at a remarkable gathering of 10,000 young people in the Albert Hall last night, arranged by the National Council of Social Service.

In 200 towns and villages meetings were being held simultaneously and a broadcast of the Prince's words meant that these gatherings and millions of other listeners heard the Prince's moving address.

The Prince described the world as 'sick with fearful doubt and weary with repeated disappointments in a world of troubled nations whose vital need is courageous faith in each other. It was the task of statesmen, ministers and citizens to augment good and overcome evil, and thus to relieve the world of its oppressive burdens. But,' he said, 'my appeal here is not to statesmen but to all those who are in work to play the part of a neighbour and a friend to men out of work.' He added: 'There is no central machinery to provide a substitute for a good neighbour. Our enemy to-day is depression and apathy. Let us attack them with two of our old-fashioned characteristics—good sense and good humour.'

Every attempt of the community to achieve some social benefit for the workless in their midst will lift the general level of hope and make easier every national solution by statesmen and economists. Social service should be thought of as a kindness between man and man, mutual understanding and as all those acts of unselfish devotion done without thought of material gain or personal advancement.

GEN. MA AS PEACEMAKER

HORRORS OF WAR PREVENTED

TING CHAO'S FORCES WITHDRAW FROM HARBIN

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

HARBIN, January 28.

THE picturesque figure of General Ma Chan Shan, the defender of Nonni River and Tsitsihar, appeared in the limelight again to-day, and to his intervention Harbin owes its thanks, for the time being, of being spared the horrors of war. Through his mediation the contending armies have agreed to peace terms and Ting Chao's forces are withdrawing to outside Harbin limits.

ORGY OF LOOTING AND PLUNDERING

TOKYO, Jan. 28.

Following the fighting between Ting Chao's troops and Hsi Hsia's Kirin forces, an orgy of looting and plundering has set in at Harbin, where Ting Chao's soldiers looted a number of residences belonging to wealthy Japanese and Koreans, also the Japanese Hospital Institute, thus instituting a virtual reign of terror.

The whole city has been plunged into darkness.

Latest Press messages from Harbin indicate that it may be necessary to despatch Japanese troops to protect Japanese lives and property, which appear to be endangered.

NEW KIRIN TROOPS RETIRE

HARBIN, Jan. 28.

Reuter's correspondent in Harbin, cabling this morning, reports that the new Kirin troops under the Japanese-supported General Hsi Hsia have been forced to retreat.

The engagement lasted for four hours, and in its course a Japanese aeroplane assisting the Hsi Hsia troops was shot down. The attack was beaten off and ended at about 12.30 p.m. yesterday.

Several civilians were killed and wounded by gunfire and aerial bombs, and the town is in panic. Reuter's correspondent says nothing about the alleged reign of terror and the orgy of looting, but adds that a renewal of the fighting is expected in the course of this evening.

TRAIN HELD UP

TOKYO, Jan. 28.

Telegraphic and telephonic communication between Changchun and Harbin has been cut off, and considerable anxiety is felt regarding the fate of the large Japanese colony in Harbin, according to Press messages from Changchun.

Press reports also state that Chinese troops at Kwangchengzai, the terminus of the southern section of the Chinese Eastern Railway, started disturbances at midnight, and seized the station.

Another despatch reports that a passenger train from Harbin, which was due at Kwangchengzai this morning, has been held up at Yao-men, owing to the disturbed situation.

TOKYO, Jan. 28. It is reported that a Japanese detachment from Changchun is being sent to Harbin.

TOKYO, Jan. 28.

Two Japanese tanks left Changchun for Harbin this morning and a detachment of artillery, from Kungchuling, thirty miles south of Changchun, is also proceeding to Harbin expecting to arrive to-night.

Normal traffic on the Chinese Eastern Railway south and west of Harbin is paralysed, thereby dislocating the main trans-Siberian route to Europe.

FANLING HUNT.

OUR "FOX" COMES TO GRIEF.

[By "REYNARD"]

Meeting at the Hunters Arms on Wednesday, a large field was present to negotiate the country south of the railway and golf course.

The first run took us from Fanling Station southwards past Mid-Hill over plough and paddy until hounds swung left on to the grass slopes of the main hill feature. Here we had some really appalling drop jumps to shake the liver and not a few stray ponies were seen wandering round with empty saddles.

Mr. Corbett, who lays the line, also took a spill when his pony had an argument with a bank and ditch. He is, however, in the lucky position of knowing that when lying on his back at the bottom of a ditch admiring cloud effects, hounds will soon find him. Bloodhounds are not in it when the Fanling Hunt is out!

Pretty Hunting.

The end of the first run placed us in a good position to enjoy the excellent country south of the Golf Course and a really excellent line took hounds along at a great pace, swinging first right handed and then left almost to the river. From here they came round on a wide circle leaving Fir Hill on their right heading back for Fanling, when they again swung left on the point-to-point Course to finish. Some very pretty hunting was seen during this run and it was a treat to watch hounds coming across the open country in the distance.

On Sunday next the Hunt are holding their first Point-to-Point meeting of the season on the same Course as last year near Potts' Bungalow. The programme includes the following races:—R.A. race, Ladies' race, Volunteers race, a Combined Argyll and Borders race and a members race.

The first race is timed to start at 1.30 sharp. A car park is being provided and there will be a two-dollar Tote. Entries are good and some interesting racing should be seen.

MAKE YOUR SKIN CLEAR.

WONDERFUL CURATIVE
POWERS OF ZAM-BUK
EXPLAINED.

The human skin, to keep flexible and healthy, secretes a supply of oil in the tiny glands inside the tissues. When this "oil bath" dries up, the skin becomes harsh and irritable and often breaks out in disfiguring disease.

Recent scientific research has discovered a secret of the ancient races whereby an alternative for this natural lubrication of the skin was produced by compounding the highly-potent oils of certain rare herbs into precious ointment.

To-day that most wonderful preparation, Zam-Buk, combines all the old secrets of skin treatment with twentieth century medical knowledge and manufacturing skill. On the careful selection and scientific manner in which the valuable herbal extracts are blended together depends the marvellous soothing and curative power of Zam-Buk.

Whether used for eczema, warts, poisonous sores, or for minor blemishes like cuts, bruises, pimples, insect bites, etc., Zam-Buk is always ready to soothe and heal. It ends pain like magic, allays itching and inflammation and destroys disease germs. Nothing else goes right to the roots of the trouble like Zam-Buk. It draws out corruption and makes entire skin healthy and wholesome.

Zam-Buk, guaranteed free from all animal fats, is sold in handy, size boxes of all chemists and dispensaries. Agents:—Messrs. Gilman & Co., Ltd., 44, Des Voeux Road, Hong Kong.

JAPANESE OCCUPY CHAPEI

the Anti-Japanese Headquarters in the International Settlement, Japanese action will be confined to forcibly closing the offices of anti-Japanese associations outside the Settlement, and removing goods illegally seized by boycott pickets.

While regretting "the misapprehensions under which Washington appears to be labouring," the spokesman emphasised the hope that violence would be avoided. He intimated that Japanese action was mainly intended to "quieten her own people whose indignation at recent incidents had reached such a pitch that they might attempt to take matters into their own hands if nothing is done." He stated that the French Consul-General in Shanghai has promised to afford protection to Japanese inside the French Concession.

EVACUATION OF JAP. CONSULATE STAFF

NANKING, Jan. 28. The tenseness of the Sino-Japanese relations is indicated by an official announcement issued by the Japanese Consulate to-day, that the entire Consulate staff is evacuating Nanking to-day and boarding a Japanese warship, now lying off Hsiau-kuan.

NANKING, Jan. 28. The Japanese Consul says that the withdrawal of the Consulate staff on to a warship is purely a precautionary measure to avoid any possible incident, such as an attack by the radical elements on the Consulate. He added that the staff is only temporarily on the warship and would be transferred to a steamer—one is being sent for that purpose—and the Consulate business will be carried on from the steamer.

CANTON DESIRES WAR

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

CANTON, Jan. 28. The Canton Government in reaction to the summary resignation of Messrs. Sun Fo and Eugene Chen in Nanking cabled to-day a message to the Nanking Government in support of the foreign policy vis-a-vis Japan of the former. The message stated, inter alia, that Marshal Chiang Kai Shek's policy of non-resistance is wrong and one worthy of condemnation. Canton upholds the policy advocated by Messrs. Sun Fo and Eugene Chen as far as complete severance of political relationship with Japan is concerned.

The message further argues that China should fight for her existence, for her territorial integrity and political independence. To rely on the League of Nations or on other countries, or agencies, for the preservation of world peace, as Chiang Kai Shek had been doing, is not to be recommended. China, according to the Canton Government and the Southwest Alliance, should declare war against Japan.

JAPANESE DESTROYERS AT SHANGHAI

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, Jan. 28. A flotilla of twelve Japanese destroyers and the cruiser Rubari, the latter carrying a landing party of 310, arrived at six this morning. At 8.55 a.m. a bomb, alleged to have been thrown from the roof of a godown at the corner of Whangpoo and Woohang Roads, exploded harmlessly on the asphalt outside the Japanese Consulate.

There were no casualties, but considerable excitement ensued. The only clue was a cap with an Anti-Japanese Association label on it.

A Chinese well-known in Japanese circles called on Mr. Murali this morning and informed the Consul that Mr. Wu Tieh Cheng was accepting the Japanese demands. He declared that a formal reply would be handed to Mr. Murali this afternoon, the time not being mentioned.

NEW YORK CONVERSATIONS

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

Rogby, Jan. 27. After conversations at Washington between the Secretary of State, Mr. H. L. Stimson, and the British Ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, the United States Government have sent a communication to London which is now under the examination of the British Government, regarding the situation in Shanghai.

According to Press reports, the Chinese authorities continue to display indecision regarding the Japanese demand for the suppression of the anti-Japanese boycott and the demonstrations which are taking place in Shanghai, and drastic action is threatened, failing a satisfactory reply.

An atmosphere of tension exists and precautions are being taken for the maintenance of order in the International Settlement, where there is an influx of refugees.

"WARFARE WITHOUT ARMS"

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

TOKYO, Jan. 28.

The Navy Office has issued a statement regarding yesterday's despatch of warships to Shanghai. It points out the importance of the prolonged anti-Japanese movement in China—which really amounts to warfare without arms.

The statement declares that if China fails to heed Japan's warning that the Navy will be compelled to "take adequate steps to protect Japanese lives and interests, as Japanese patience is exhausted."

regulations. They have been eager and enthusiastic, but far too cautious.

The present regulations which govern the conduct of all inquiries, it is felt, are stifling efforts, cramping investigations and bestowing upon the suspect a freedom of action that is militating against success.

"SUSPECTS' CHARTER."

A famous criminologist recently designated the Commission's report as "the Suspects' Charter." And such is undoubtedly the case. Every member of the criminal fraternity knows that if he is questioned by the police on any matter, he is fully at liberty to remain silent. No harm will come to him through his silence, for he has the Commission behind him. Suspects may not even be questioned.

In this way is the detective of today handicapped. The whole machinery of criminal investigation, built up by years of practice and experience, has had to be scrapped, and its place taken by a system remodelled on the Commission's findings and Judges' rules, which disallows all questioning of suspects, and prohibits the hitherto universal and very successful practice of elimination of possible culprits by a wholesale roundup and inspection when a serious case of any kind has occurred.

Fifteen months after the Commission's report was published—during which time the damaging effect had already been felt—a confidential memorandum was issued by the Home Office giving the views of the King's Bench judges on the questions raised. It was made plain that the judges did not altogether approve of the drastic findings, and the amendments they made to the judges' rules (drawn up for the guidance of police in the preparation of evidence) was intended to leave the police in exactly the same position as formerly.

DETECTIVES' FEARS.

But experience has since shown that these belated amendments did not have the desired effect. The restrictions, reprimands, famous court cases and remodelled regulations have resulted in detectives deciding to play for safety and not to run the grave risks by interpreting the findings in a wide degree.

Experienced detectives have said that after many years' service they are not going to mar their prospects of advancement or wreck their police careers by taking liberties with the regulations, even if their cautiousness means the escape of the culprit.

"The fact is," wrote an experienced detective officer recently, "that the rules relating to the questioning of suspects are a stranglehold—not on the criminal, as they should be—but on the investigating police officer. We do not want—and never have practised—'Third Degree.' We hate it, and would never use it if allowed, but we would do our job more thoroughly and properly if the regulations regarding questioning of suspects were sensibly revised so that the community did not suffer at the expense of sentimentality over criminals."
